AMBERWOOD AT HOLLAND

A Neighbourhood Planned by the Government. Taking Shape Now.

The Singapore Government unveiled Holland Plain in 2017.
As of 2026, eight land parcels are planned, the first two have been sold to Sim Lian, and the third is slated for bidding in December 2026.

2017

URA Unveils the Vision

The Government announces Holland Plain as a new private residential precinct — 34 hectares, up to 2,500 homes. Public engagement begins. Residents give feedback. Plans are refined.

2019

Zoned in the Master Plan

After 2 years of public consultation, Holland Plain is formally zoned in URA Master Plan 2019. The vision becomes policy. The land is set aside. No going back.

Plot 1 — Holland Link Launched

December 2024: URA launches the first GLS site at Holland Link. Sim Lian wins with a bid of S$1,432 psf ppr — 22% above the 2nd bidder. Amberwood at Holland is born.

Plot 2 — Holland Plain Launched

February 2026: URA launches the adjacent Plot 2. Sim Lian again submits the sole bid — S$1,491 psf ppr, S$454 million. 4.1% higher than their own Plot 1 bid.

Plot 3 — Confirmed List

June 2026: URA places Plot 3 at Holland Plain on the 2H2026 GLS Confirmed List. It is now moving into the GLS tender process — with bidding expected in December 2026.

Eight parcels mapped. Two secured by Sim Lian(25% of Holland Plain).

Plot 3 is next in line.

This is not just a plan — it is a staged rollout already underway.

When a Developer Bets S$822 Million on One Street, we should pay attention.

Sim Lian Group paid the Singapore Government a combined S$822 million for two adjoining sites in Holland Plain. Here is what that tells you.

Sole bid —
no competition

Add construction, marketing & stamp duty — this becomes a >S$1B commitment to one street in Holland Plain

Buy before the street is obvious.

Two sites are secured and Plot 3 is queued, but the precinct is still early. This is the buyer's window — before launches, hoardings and visible works make Holland Plain obvious to everyone.

A higher second bid resets the floor.

Sim Lian paid 4.1% more for Plot 2 after studying Plot 1. For buyers, that matters: the next launch has to be priced and positioned around a stronger land benchmark.

Waiting means paying for certainty.

Once tender results, launch pricing and construction progress are visible, the market has more proof. Buying now is about entering before that proof is fully priced in.

*“The more obvious Holland Plain becomes,
the less early-entry advantage remains.”*

Sim Lian: De Facto Precinct Master Developer

Sim Lian now controls both launched residential sites in Holland Plain (25% of it). — Holland Link (Amberwood, 212 units) and Holland Plain Plot 2 (~280 units).
No other developer has a footprint here yet. When the de facto master developer pays more for Plot 2 than they paid for Plot 1, it tells you everything about where they think this precinct is headed.

"Today's new CCR record: Peck Hay Road at $1,865 psf ppr. Chuan Grove OCR: $1,376. Dorset Road RCR: $1,338. Amberwood is CCR at $1,432 psf ppr – the most compelling entry point in the region."

New Precincts. Proven Pattern.

Across new precincts, the first buyers win; waiting has consistently meant paying more — even for a longer walk to MRT.

① LENTOR CLUSTER (OCR, D26) — The Time Factor

Pre-harmonisation (4 projects: Jul 2021 – Sep 2022) Post-harmonisation (from Apr 2023: Lentor Mansion was Singapore's first harmonised condo launch) Latest: $1,278 psf ppr Mar 2026 — post-harm. record, surpasses all pre-harmonisation land bids

➤ The Lentor lesson: when harmonisation began in Apr 2023 (Lentor Mansion, Singapore's first harmonised condo), land prices dipped to $985 and $982 psf ppr as developers repriced risk under the new unit-size rules — yet sales prices held firm at $2,200+ psf throughout. Time mattered more than MRT distance: Lentor Central Residences (MRT next door, $2,222 psf) launched at the same price as Lentor Mansion (5-min walk, $2,223 psf). Now the latest harmonised land at $1,278 psf ppr — a record — signals the highest Lentor launch prices are still ahead.

N 2014	NV Residences	$830 psf

Closer to MRT. Later. Higher price. ↑28%
Moving closer to MRT. Later still. ↑34%
Closer to MRT. Time gap widens. Price rises. ↑41%
Nearest MRT. Latest launch. Highest price. ↑51%

➤ The Pasir Ris story: Livia launched first in 2011 - furthest from MRT, entry price at $650 psf. Each subsequent project launched closer to the MRT and later in time - and at a higher price. Coco Palms, nearest to MRT and last to launch in 2018, achieved $980 psf - 51% above Livia. Time and MRT proximity both rewarded patience — but only for the developer, not the buyer. The buyer who waited paid more.

③ HOLLAND PLAIN CLUSTER (CCR, D10) — 8 Sites. The Pattern Is Starting. You Are At Site 1.

Date	Site	Land $psf ppr	Est. Launch
1 Aug 2025	Plot 1: Amberwood ➤	$1,432	Sep 2026
2 May 2026	Plot 2: Sim Lian	$1,491	2027+
3 2H 2026	Plot 3: GLS (Confirmed)	TBC	2028+
2027–2030+	Plots 4 – 8: (6 sites remain)	?	?

Amberwood is Plot 1 of 8 — just 7 minutes from KAP MRT and the first. Plot 2 already sold at $1,491 psf ppr. If Lentor and Pasir Ris tell us anything, the price of the next 6 plots will only go in one direction. Future buyers will look at Amberwood's prices the way we now look at Livia in 2011.
